THE

SUPERINTENDENT W. P. MACLEAN

THIS year marked the inception of a new superintendent at Morton High School. He is a man who has been a member of the faculty for many years, and who was, previous to his recent appointment, head of the physical education department. Under his leadership that department became a model for other secondary schools to follow, and now he is applying the same energetic type of administration upon the high school as a whole. He is always willing to listen to the requests or suggestions of students from the most humble freshman to the most popular senior, and he takes an active interest in student activities. With the best interests of the school always at heart, Mr. W. P. MacLean has proven himself a popular educator and a friendly personality to students, faculty, and public alike.

ADMINISTRATION

RIGHT hand man to Superintendent MacLean is Assistant Superintendent W. C. Stone, who likewise took over the duties of his position at the beginning of this school year. Mr. Stone shares the superintendent's genuine interest in the welfare of the school.

Whether Morton students are conscious of the fact or not, our deans are among the best friends we have. Those of us who have always remained on the good side of the deans probably realize this more than those who have at one time or another found themselves in the well known "doghouse." Nevertheless, the efforts which the deans make in our behalf are always for our own welfare.

Representing the taxpayers in Morton's plan of administration is the Board of Education. The task of determining the policies of an institution the size of Morton is not an easy one, but the present Board has definitely improved conditions in the school and has performed its duties well. When one considers that the Board must provide the necessary funds for the education of five thousand nine hundred fourteen pupils, the responsibility of membership on the Board of Education takes on larger aspects.

THE P. T. A.

THE main purpose of the Parent-Teachers' Association is to promote a better understanding between parents, teachers, and pupils. Only by being thoroughly familiar with conditions existing at the school can the parents help their children to get the most out of their high school education. In order to promote this closer relationship this year the P. T. A. sponsored a series of "open houses" which presented the students in their classes exactly as they appear during the regular school day and also a series of departmental "open houses."

appreciation of modern miracles

MR. A. R. MOORE and the twenty-eight teachers of the natural science department have succeeded in making this phase of high-school work one of the most practical in the whole curriculum. Throughout the department, from general science to chemistry, the point of view of the consumer is repeatedly stressed. Thus, through class room and science club activities, the three thousand ten science students learn among other things such useful bits of information as how to compute a gas or electric bill, to select a good gasoline, anti-freeze, or motor oil, and how to choose a reliable brand of toothpaste, soap, or cold cream.

MATHEMATICS

'X equals minus b plus or minus the square root of b² minus four ac over two a.' To the layman this comparatively simple formula for the solution of a quadratic equation probably presents a somewhat terrifying appearance, but to the well-informed student of algebra it holds few terrors if any. Mr. W. A. Richards heads the mathematics department, and eighteen efficient pedagogues attempt to instill the secrets of the slide rule and the logarithm table into the minds of two thousand nine hundred twenty-seven erstwhile mathematicians.

DURING the first semester the language department was headed by Miss F. C. Morgan, and Miss I. Vrba filled the position the second semester. In this department one thousand two hundred forty-three pupils under the direction of eleven teachers study Latin, French, Spanish, Czech, and Polish; and many students participate in the activities of one or more of the five clubs sponsored by the department. Club activities add much interest to the study of languages.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

NO matter how wide a field the vocational aspirations of a Morton student may cover, the vocational department, under the direction of Mr. P. L. Roise, usually has ample facilities to satisfy them. The eight divisions which the department comprises are auto mechanics, building trades drafting, electric mechanics, machine shop, mechanical drawing, pattern making, printing, and woodwork. Many of the faculty of twenty-three instructors have had actual experience in shop work, and all are well qualified to train the eighteen hundred students of the department to meet the demands of modern industry. Most of the tools and equipment used in Morton's shops have been built entirely within the school. When a high school graduate applies for a job, one of the prime criterions of his ability is the manner in which he expresses his ideas; and a good background in English is an essential step on the way to success. THE LIBRARIES enrich the curriculum

EVERY Morton student is familiar with the curt comments of "No talking, please", "Place your books and chairs," or "Where are you going?" which emanate at one time or another from our five hard-working librarians. Morton's system of four well-equipped libraries is under the direction of Miss Darlington. THE Morton Student Government Association, as we all know, is the student governing body of Morton, and is composed of four distinct divisions: the entire student body, the Assembly, the Board of Directors, and the Court of Justice.

Last June, when the Assembly elected the Board of Directors, the Board started off with a bang. Phil Carter was elected chairman, and he immediately started things rolling. The Board's enthusiasm was evident throughout the whole year.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

FIRST business of the M. S. G. A. was the selection of a motto on which to base the work of the year. This was "Student Democracy." Two thousand attractive M.S.G.A. pins were made with this motto on them and were sold at 15c a piece by a committee under the leadership of Hendricka VanBeekum. These pins proved to be quite popular.

The Hall and Dining Room Committee, under the chairmanship of Bill Best the first semester and Dick Miller the second, inaugurated a new system of selecting hall monitors. Seniors were allowed to substitute monitor work for their regular gym classes. This system, although it did not attract multitudes of applicants, brought out more mature individuals than usual and produced a much better degree of morale in the system. Due to the fact that most of the monitors were seniors, the halls have been in a better state this past year than they had been for quite a while.

According to an amendment to the constitution passed last year, the cabinet system of class officer-ships was started this year. There are nine members on the junior and senior cabinets, and seven on the freshman and sophomore. The cabinets elect their own officers. Class business seemed to run very smoothly and efficiently due to this change. To form a closer contact between the Board and the classes, the cabinets submitted written monthly reports to the Board.

ADVISERS—C. KATEK, M. I. MILLER,
G. M. LARIMER.

Student legislation is an important phase of our school administration.

THE Social Committee under Bill Stein introduced three new social events this year which we hope will become traditional. These were the "Sweater Hop", the "Hard Times" social, and the "Colonial Capers." The "Sweater Hop" was a regular Junior-Senior social at which all persons present, male and female, had to wear sweaters. (No coats for the boys.) This was a big hit, as were the other two above-mentioned socials. At the "Hard Times" social everyone wore old clothes. The "Colonial Capers" was a celebration of Washington's Birthday. It was an all school night dance, and most of the boys came dated.

The Hall and Dining Room Committee issues badges to hall monitors.

The Social Committee serves refreshments.

THE Welfare Committee under the very capable leadership of Frances Benda did its share of work this year. Throughout the year the many members of this committee could be found selling welfare pins, delivering baskets, collecting old clothes, and wearing those mysterious "Sponsor" tags which were obtained for bringing a bundle of used clothes for the old clothes campaign. The high spot of this committee's activity was the "April Fool Frolic", this year's "Serpentine Swing". Three separate dances were held in the afternoon in the Cafe and Girls' Gym. 15c was the admission, and the proceeds went into the welfare fund. This affair was received with much enthusiasm by the student body.

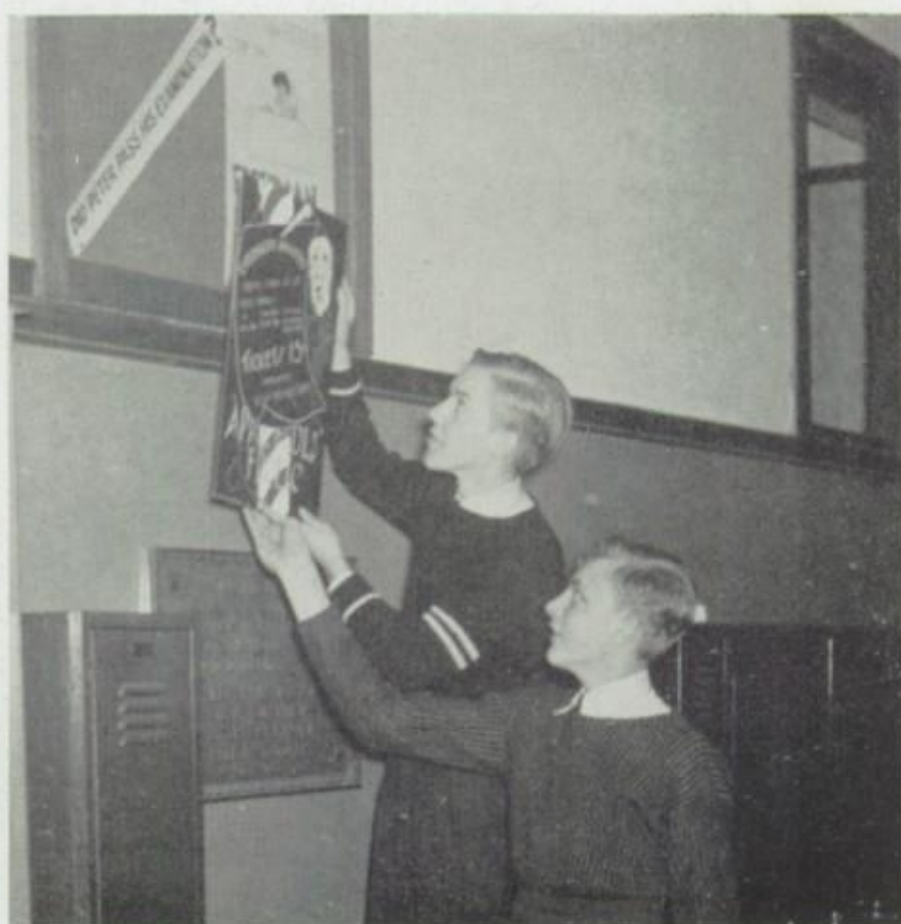

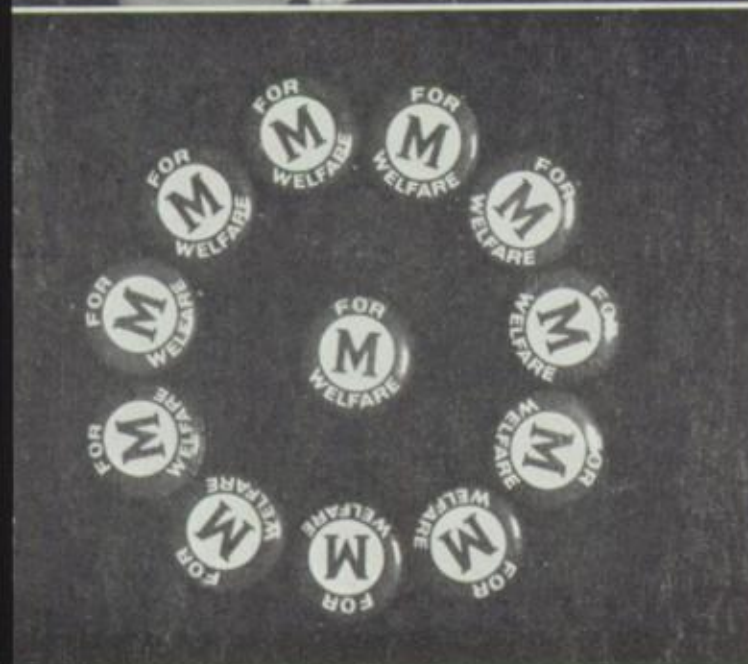

An entirely new idea this year was the Club Conference. This was Chuck Nelson's brainstorm, and he headed the committee which worked out the details of the conference. This conference was very similar to ones held by student press associations, or student government associations; but instead of having delegates from several schools, the delegates were all from Morton and were selected by the various clubs and other organizations which they represented. This was an all day affair, and topics of interest to all school organizations were discussed. Whether or not this will become an annual affair is not certain, but it is being contemplated by members of the committee.

The assembly Committee is in charge of Assemblies.

Buttons are sold by the Welfare Committee.

Publicity Committee members post notices.

The Athletic and Booster Committee sells pennants at games.

The Building and Grounds Committee takes care of our trophies.

The College and University Scholarship Committee bulletin attracts much notice.

The Eligibility Committee checks on qualifications of office holders.

THE College and University Scholarship Committee, also headed by Chuck Nelson, has become quite prominent this year although it is only about a year and a half old. A large bulletin board was obtained and placed near the personnel bureau. On it was placed up-to-date literature on scholarships offered by various institutions. This has attracted quite a bit of notice and has become popular with seniors who hope to graduate.

The Court of Justice underwent a slight change this year. A prosecuting attorney, Miles Beran, was chosen to question defendants. The justices did not feel that it was fair to the defendants to be questioned by the justices.

ALUMNI BOARD

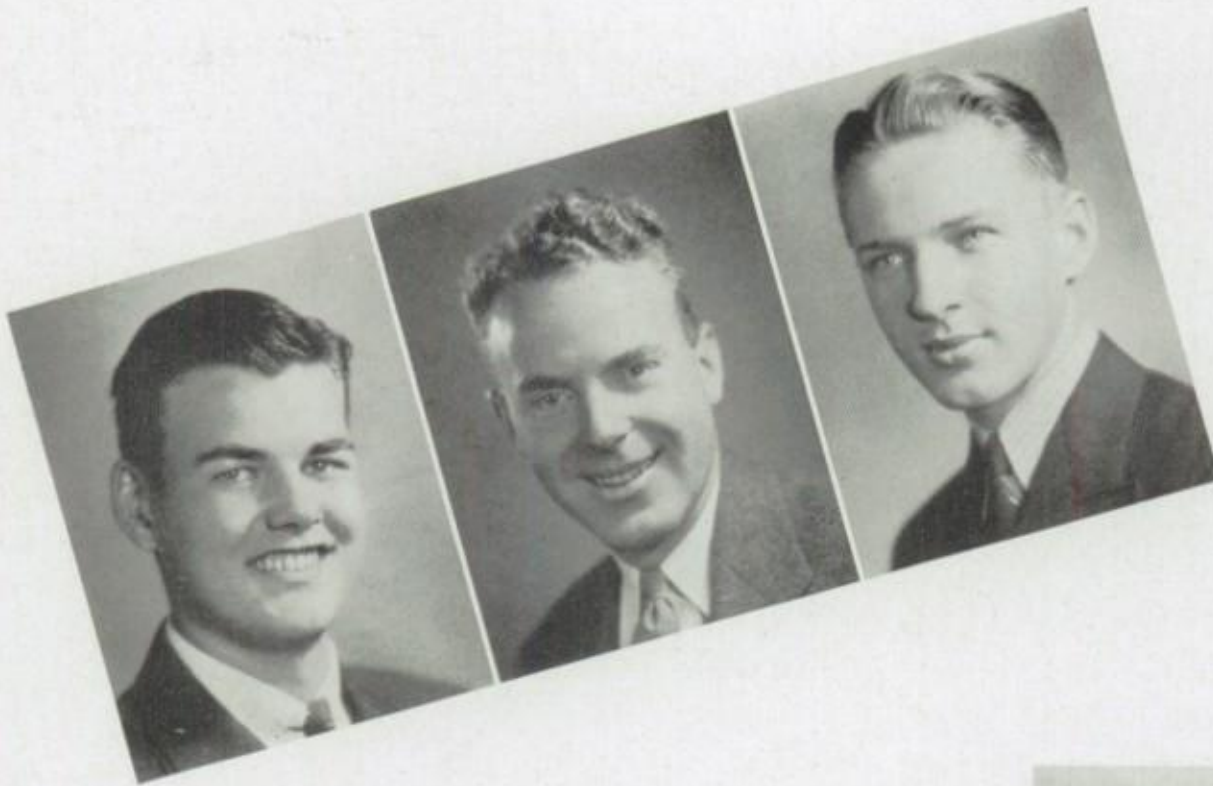

THE Morton Alumni Association is the organization which is most active after the members graduate from high school. The real functioning body of the Alumni Association is the Alumni Board. This Board is divided into two separate groups that work together. The Gold group is made up of seniors; twenty-five boys and twenty-five girls. Also selected are twenty-five juniors who are known collectively as the Silver group. The Gold group is the more active one. The Silver group can thus profit from the experience of the Gold group.

After the members graduate, the Board plans and carries out reunions, dances, banquets, or any other type of affair which interests the alumni.

This year the organization with "Tolly" Tollenaere as president put over a talent assembly that was really a hit. All of the entertainment was furnished by gifted members of the Morton student body. Dot Wright was chairman of the committee that planned this assembly. It was planned to exchange this assembly for ones from other schools.

Local talent was abundant at the Alumni assembly

THE 1940 MORTONIAN

THE Annual Staff moved back this year to its old quarters in room 104, land of fresh air and gym class music. The noise of autos whizzing by and the din from the near by shops mingled with the click of the staff typewriters and the rantings of the business manager and editor as they vainly attempted to order some one else to do their work all combined to produce an air of busy industry. Few students realize the great amount of time and energy that is expended in the production of their year book. After hours of picture taking, developing, printing, cutting, layout, filing, typing, proof reading and selling the staff has produced this book. By its merits you may judge them.

A CASUAL observer may find little coordination in the outward bustle and confusion of the "J" office; but, upon closer inspection, he will discover that each little duty the journalist performs is an integral part of his ultimate goal—the Mortonian Weekly.

The assignments are posted, and the Weekly is in the making! When a story has been obtained and typed, it is handed to the proper editor, who reads and corrects it.

After the compositors have set up the story in the print shop they read and correct the galley proof so that it may be placed on the dummy. Now all the stories and cuts are put into the forms, and a number of page proofs are corrected.

As soon as the page proofs are satisfactory, the Weekly is put on the press. The final proofs are now run off and corrected.

The papers for the first classes of the morning are run off Thursday afternoon, and Friday morning sees the beginning of the distribution of the six thousand newspapers to the students and faculty of Morton.

INTERNATIONAL QUILL AND SCROLL

IN ORDER to become a member of the Quill and Scroll, a national organization for high school journalists, two weeks of steadfast initiation are required. During these weeks pledges have to submit themselves to the requests of their sponsors who have previously been through the same experience.

After the allotted period, the fitness of the pledges to become members of the society will be determined. Those nominated as pledges are by no means members and their conduct and work during this probation period will be the final determining factor in their election to the society.

This society, the Quill and Scroll, was founded at the University of Iowa, April 10, 1926 by a group of journalism teachers. There are nearly two thousand chapters in the society at present.

International headquarters are located at Northwestern University.

One of the outstanding rules in the code of ethics of the Quill and Scroll is one which may be applied to practical usage—"Strive for the best; ever keeping your goal in life in mind."

This part of the informal initiation was fun for the spectators.

MORTON ON THE AIR

THROUGH the cooperation of Mr. Hoffman, President of the School board, Morton High School has been able to bring to the attention of the community the policies and the activities of the school program through the use of radio station W. H. F. C.

Although the objectives of the programs were not clear at first, and although the administration had not formulated a long time policy related to a program of radio education at Morton, certain objectives presented themselves and were achieved.

From September 18th to January 26th there were eighty-five programs produced in which seven hundred and seventy three students took part.

MORTON IN THE PRESS

THROUGH the efforts of Supt. MacLean and the cooperation of the Cicero and Berwyn Life, Morton has maintained a weekly news page in both papers. Mr. V. W. Bunnell acted as editorial director of the page. The Life took the material turned in by the students without making any attempt to alter it. The page was called "Morton News and Views."

A definite schedule was followed each week: a scholarly teacher's article, some student creative work, story of a club, sport news, a biography, the radio and movie schedule and several shorts.

THE CONCERT

THE Morton Concert Band has done its share to make known the name of our school. It has placed the name J. Sterling Morton at the head of high school instrumental music since 1933. A minimum membership of one hundred and twenty players is maintained, and these are very carefully selected from among the musicians in the entire school district.

Aside from the regular concert season and contest activities in which the entire band participates, there are twenty-seven soloists and ensembles; many of whom are national winners that render their services to the various social events in the community.

The band's instrumentation is the most complete among high schools. The voluminous music library contains important compositions by composers of all periods, from Bach to Victor Herbert.

Obviously all this could not have been brought about without a capable supervisor. In this capacity, Director L. M. Blaha has served notably.

THIS year's orchestra under the supervision of its new director Mr. Blaha is undergoing important changes.

Two of the new improvements aimed towards perfection of the organization are group rehearsals and grade school experience. In the group rehearsals, each section such as basses, cellos, and violins, have their own teachers.

Also, if any musicians in the grade schools are found to have exceptional talent they are permitted to come and practice with the regular organization, in this way the orchestra is assured of a good number of excellent future musicians.

The orchestra this year has given two successful concerts, participated in national contests and has given its support during assemblies and to two graduation classes of the year.

DANCE ORCHESTRA

MORTON'S dance orchestra this year has undergone many changes. Mr. Nicholas, director of Morton's vocal groups is now the man who has the, "Oh, What an Easy Job You've Got, All You Do Is Wave A Stick", blues. Likewise, string instruments, a feature of many of the better dance orchestra's are now a successful feature of Morton's dance band.

The group this year has done a great deal in holding up the social end of our school program. They have furnished music in the modern tempo for the Hit Parades, special assemblies, "M" Club Hop, "Annual Social", and the regular bi-monthly socials.

THE AEOLIAN CHOIR

THE Aeolian Choir, under the direction of Mr. C. K. Nicholas, has had a full year in entertaining Morton audiences. It has donated its vocal talent to many of the assemblies, hit parades and commemorative holiday programs.

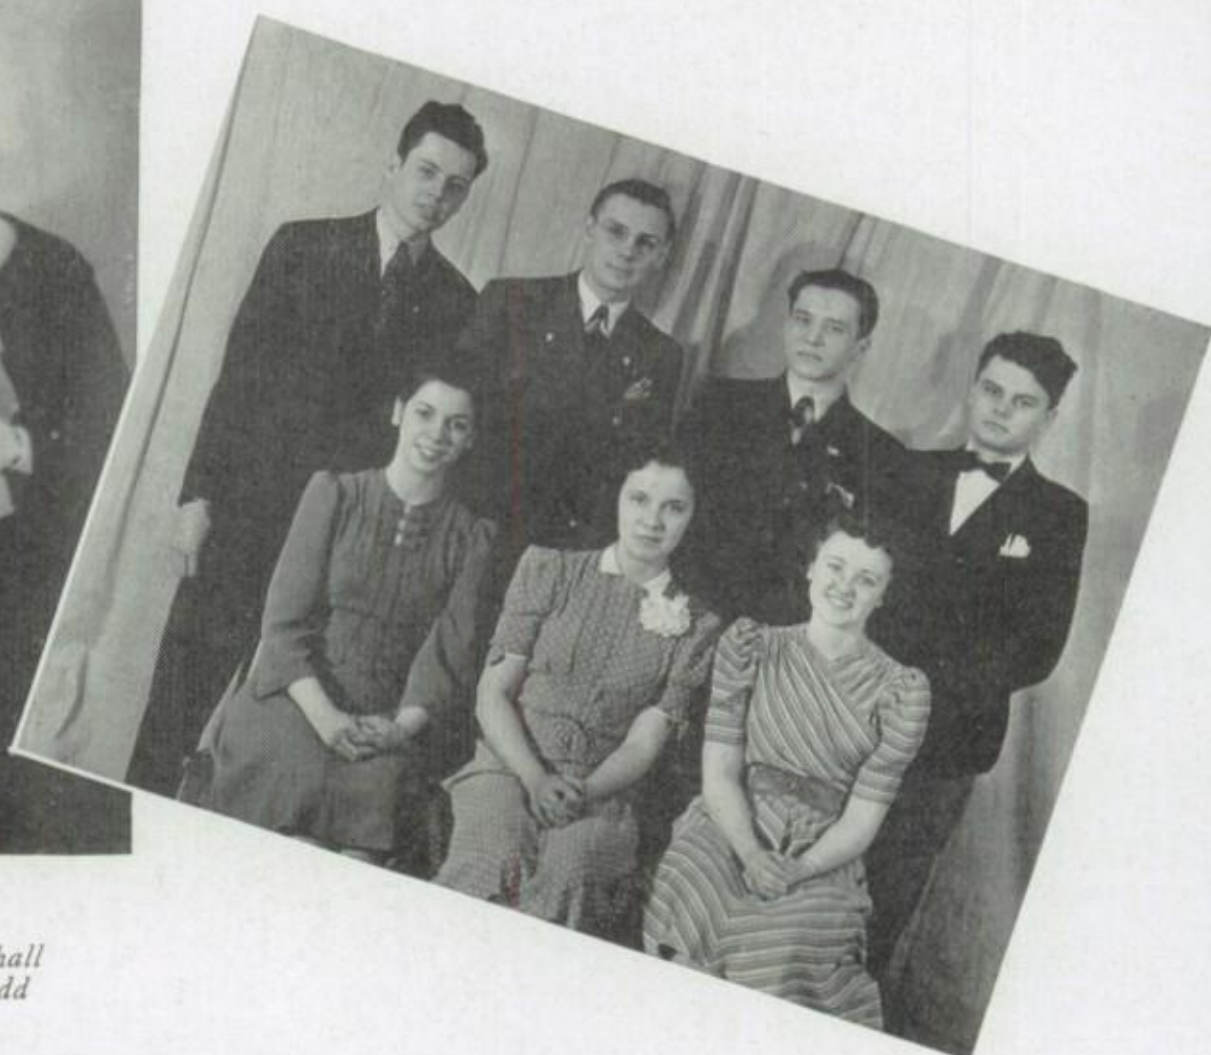

Aside from school presentations the choir has been asked to sing at numerous radio programs. J. S. M.'s program, and N.B.C. has found the Choir behind the microphone many times. In addition, this group's voices resounded down State Street during the Christmas season. Spring found the Choir pondering over new notes for an Easter program, another graduation, and the work for its annual secular and religious vocal concert.

MORTON DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION

THE Dramatic Association, outstanding in its ability to entertain all lovers of stage productions, consists of the Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior-Senior groups coached by Miss Coggeshall. Each group working separately presents a number of plays free of charge to the student body.

This year, however, the Freshmen and Sophomore groups worked together and presented "The Travelers" which was repeated three times for the benefit of various organizations. Outstanding players included Fred Gast, Gus Liebenow, Shirley Hrudka, Margaret Launer, Pearl Mack, and Arnold Moran. These players show great possibilities and should in a few years be likely prospects for the senior play.

The third and fourth year dramatists presented the following plays—"The Clod" and "What Men Live By" which, by the way, was repeated twice. Following this was the presentation of the senior play, "Whiteheaded Boy." Among the many outstanding performances were those of George Davis, Irene Krenek, Ted Feifar, June Futera, Virginia Satal, and Herbert Langner.

The Dramatic Association again sponsored the annual speech banquet to which all teachers and students in some way connected with speech work were invited. February 9, 1940, was the date of the banquet which proved to be a social success. The special guest of the evening was Alice Engersoll of Northwestern University.

Also eagerly awaited by every dramatist is the initiation into the Thespians, a national organization for deserving dramatists. Points are given for dramatic ability as well as for costuming and stage work.

THE dramatic highlight of the senior year was the presentation of "The Whiteheaded Boy," a comedy in three acts written by Lennox Robinson. After much deliberation on the part of the dramatic coaches, Miss Coggeshall and Miss Todd, this play was chosen for its enjoyment of theme as well as its suitability to the school cast.

The story concerns itself with the problem of keeping Denis, a young medical student, in college. When Denis fails in his exams for the third time, George, his older brother, decides to take action. After this things begin to happen, but in accordance to everyone's wishes all turns out well.

The story carried us back to the year 1868. Costumes and setting were thoughtfully planned and worked out in careful detail. The first and second acts which took place in a living room brought us into a typical Irish home with its fireplace and green backed plush furniture. The third act had an outdoor woodland setting. Even the old well had that traditional squeak.

Each dramatist was acclaimed for his performance which delighted the audience.

DEBATE AND ORATORY

ONCE again Morton speakers must be recognized as outstanding competitors in the interscholastic field. This year Morton is proud to possess a large engraved cup as the result of its debate squad winning first place in the Metropolitan Debate Union. Since the Metropolitan Debate Union is composed of twelve of the strongest schools in the state, this victory is well worth its praise. The affirmative compiled an impressive total of ten victories and one loss, and the negative were right on their heels with nine wins and two defeats, for a total of nineteen victories and three losses.

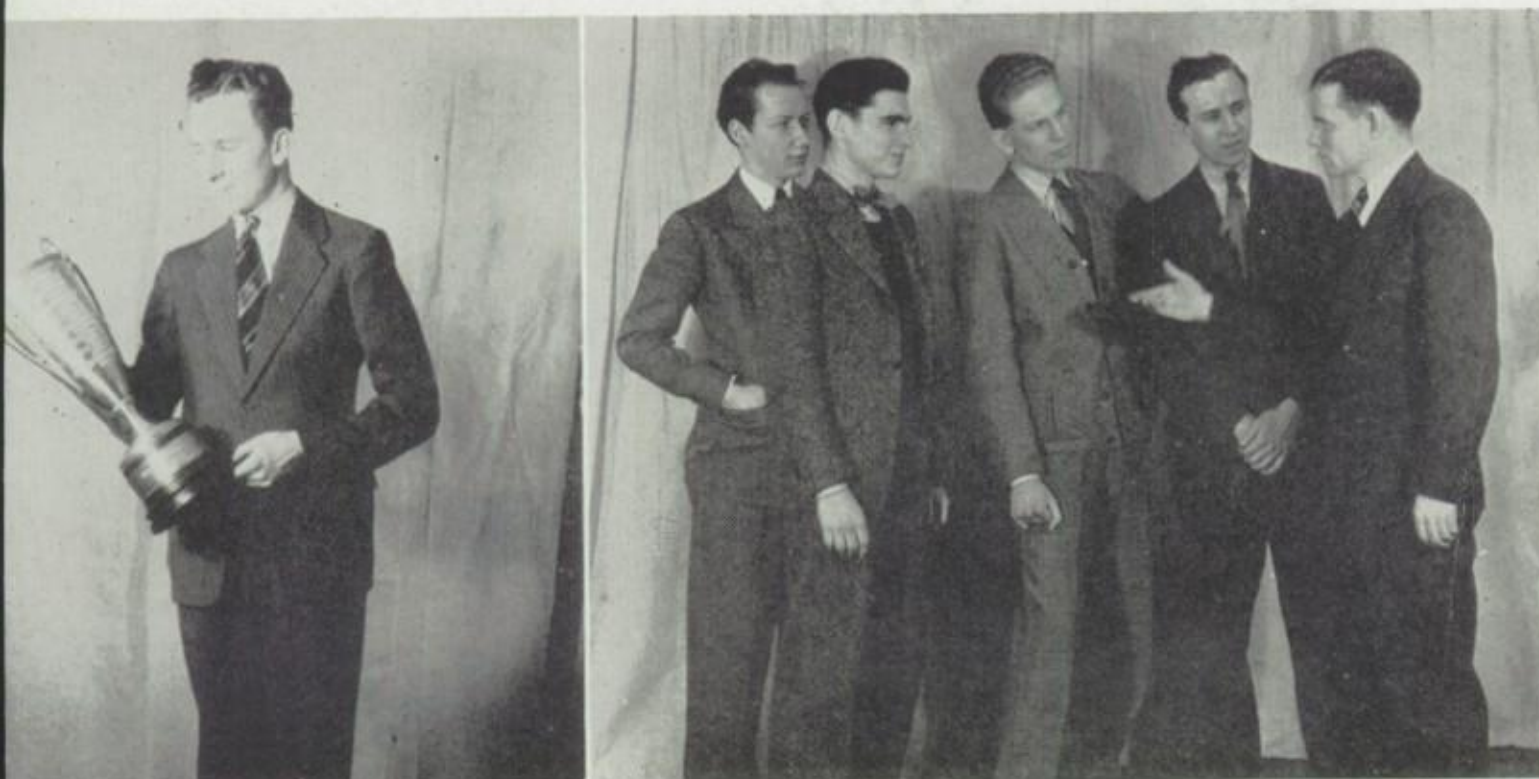

In the annual Armistice Day speech contest, Phil Carter won the American Legion cup.

THE varsity speakers have also entered several contests involving all types of speech. In the Intramural Speech Contest early in the season, several fine orators and readers were in evidence. George Davis was the winner of the oratorical declamation contest; Miles Beran won the original oratory division; June McDowell was declared first place winner in the field of poetry reading; in the field of informal speech Lorraine Secreste won; and Charles Nelson was declared the winner of the extemporaneous speech contest. The prizes, outstanding books, were donated by Miss Walker.

The debaters have attended a non-decision preparatory tournament at Hinsdale and invitational tournaments at Wheaton College and Hammond High School in Indiana. Besides this, Morton speakers also participated in the State National Forensic League Tournament held at West Aurora High School and the District Speech Tournament held at LaGrange.

In December the speech department sponsored an intramural speech tournament, which, although primarily intended for upper classmen, was participated in by the neophytes with considerable success. Margaret Launer, a sophomore, won first prize in the dramatic reading division.

In clashes with Loyola, Patricia Corcoran, Arlene Boss, Justice Shepro, and Frank Holecek all showed remarkable promise and may be used advantageously next year as members of the varsity squad. In a tournament at Thornton Fractional High School, Henry Doutlik, Doris Sundquist, and Virginia Vojteck exhibited fine ability besides those already mentioned.

Considering every tournament entered, Morton speakers have acquitted themselves creditably and have contributed to the good reputation of our school with a formidable, clear-thinking, winning group of participants.

- The only time you can see the Social Studies Society peacefully seated is at a banquet.
- The Booster Club gave a farewell party for the two February graduating basketball players, Joe Hapac and Aldo Michi.

CLUBS AT MORTON

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES play an important part in the lives of most students of J. Sterling Morton High School. We should consider ourselves very fortunate being able to choose from over fifty six clubs some that run parallel to our interests. The fellow who only attends his classes and then goes home is only half the spirited high school student he could be.

No matter what the hobby or the avocation, one surely can find one organization thru which he can express his interests.

The first annual Club Conference, made up of representatives from each club, proved the importance of the whole club program to both the student and the school.

Dear Dorothy
Loads of luck to

I have you in

MORTON COUNCIL

One of the highest ranking boys' organizations as far as service is concerned is the Morton Council. It's made up of a group of active, wholesome boys bringing their abilities forth by the fine work they do each year.

They're the fellows who usher you into the assemblies—remember them? This year's program has been quite a busy and interesting one. Every six weeks the boys break their dates and come to a night meeting. Then, too, there's that long awaited State Older Boys' Conference—guess the out-of-town air appeals to them.

The Hi-Y Banquet mustn't be forgotten, followed by the annual Father and Son Banquet to climax a successful year. This year Ray Suber, the National Broadcast-radio artist, was the guest speaker. Since he is known as the "man with a thousand voices," his imitations of various radio characters were "wows!" One of the biggest hits of the evening was his pantomime presentation of a communistic rally. The friendly air of informality and goodfellowship helped make it one of the best-liked events of the year.

JUNIOR COUNCIL

The Junior Council, composed of underclassmen who carry out activities parallel to those of the senior division, is, in reality, the preparatory school for the Morton Council. Not that the younger fellows are given inferior responsibilities—in fact, at the assemblies they usher inside the doors while the bigger boys only hold down the outer gates. The council in keeping up with the senior pace also had its night meetings, Hi-Y and Older Boys' conferences. The year's highlight was Junior dating up the "pater" for the Father and Son Banquet.

PRESS CLUB

This new club has arisen out of the desire of students of journalism to devote more time to the study of the inside workings of a newspaper. Things that prevent an editor from printing what he actually thinks are constant topics of discussion which would prove of interest to anyone; and there's the subject of the "changing American newspaper." Then, too, various trips are conducted through newspaper plants. The photo-engraving end of the work is also studied with great concentration. Anyone interested in the newspaper field would find himself greatly benefited by the teachings of this group.

PHYSICS CLUB

The Physics Club spends an active year in performing unusual experiments and constructing intricate apparatus. For the past six years their puttering-around has been well worth the time and effort employed. During every one of these six years, they have come home with a first-prize silver cup awarded by the Junior Academy of Science. Like the other science clubs, the Physics Club again entered the annual contest at Galesburg this spring. During the course of the term, the members took many interesting field trips.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The members of this group carry on experiments and extensive research work. Numerous trips are made to places in their line of interest, included in which are the Rosenwald Museum and the Governmental Food Laboratory. The Chemistry Club also enters the annual contest sponsored by the Junior Academy of Science. Last year the club placed second in the finals, and they had exceedingly good entries this year. A public exhibition of our best school projects was held here so the student body could become better acquainted with the work of the chemistry students. The club edits a paper called "In the Lab;" it contains fine articles written by the members.

FRENCH CLUB

Naturally, the enrollment of this club is open only to students of French. It helps to further acquaint the members with the language, people, customs, and the country of France as a whole. Very interesting, and often amusing, are the reading of French newspapers and the exercising of rusty vocal cords with French songs. Giving plays in this foreign language and seeing French plays presented by professionals also help make up an interesting year's calendar. The members of this group find that there's much more to a foreign language than just plain vocabularies and verb forms.

SPANISH CLUB

Very similar in purpose to the French Club is the Spanish Club. It also presented Spanish plays and studied the customs and lives of the inhabitants of that romantic country. Two of the plays presented by this ambitious group were "La Sorpresa" (The Surprise) and "Amor Contrariado" (Disappointed Lover). Both were very splendidly presented, the Spanish diction being remarkable.

It was with mingled happiness and yet regret that the members left the little Costa Rican coffee shop they had visited, afterward resolving to add it to their "favorite places to go" list. No doubt, these club people had quite a time during the entire year.

FROSH-SOPH GIRLS' CLUB

"A group of good Samaritans" is an appropriate term for these fine and capable young women. Don't you February freshmen girls remember your first high school party? You can thank the Frosh-Soph Girls' Club for that. And the April showers atmosphere at the April Fool's dance—yes, that was their work too. Many a fingernail was broken and thumbnail hammered in an attempt to please even the most artistic minded.

Time went all too fast for these girls as they packed baskets, planned parties, and took trips to Radio City, the Hull House, the Palmer House, and the Stock Yards. Even the freshmen get right "into the swing of things." One can't very well call them underclassmen—as far as service is concerned, they're just as near the top as any other group.

LATIN CLUB

Once you're in with this group, your life's a whirl of Roman banquets, exhibits, Latin plays, a Saturnalia (Christmas party), and what-have-you. All one needs to do to join the club is to polish up on his "E Pluribus Unum" and "Sic semper tyrannis."

One Saturday they even had one of those hilarious scavenger hunts. The frolickers brought back everything from mousetraps to lemon squeezers.

A screen version of the Latin play "Dido" was filmed in cooperation with the Morton Movie Makers. The play, incidentally, was filmed in technicolor.

OPERATORS' CLUB

The fellows reeling off films in your hygiene, biology and chemistry classes and at the various assemblies are none other than the members of the Operators' Club. First of all, students are elected into the group by the people who are already members. A boy must be a 1A at least before he is even considered, and then he must have an 85 scholastic average. After passing these requirements, the applicant for entrance must be accepted by Mr. Fox, the advisor; then he is "torn to pieces" by the members. If he survives all this, he is ready to learn the various techniques employed; a new operator is trained for about two weeks of intensive drill before he is permitted to do regular work.

There are now approximately eighty-five who have passed the requirements and are full-fledged operators. If, by chance, you ever ventured into the library, you must have passed room 205. That's their office and clubroom in general. There you will find cameras, equipment, a club charter on the wall, and the operators very busily engaged in a game of checkers.

MORTON MOVIE MAKERS

This year Morton's first full-length picture was filmed by Mr. Mikula and his Cecil B. DeMilles. The premier was held at Morton, and then the picture was sent to schools all over the country.

A most unique contest was sponsored by this group. The inhabitants of the vicinity were invited to partake in a "How Well Do You Know Your Community?" program. A number of techni-color scenes of the Morton district were shown plus shots of well-known streets, public buildings, parks, and monuments. As each scene was presented, the members of the audience were requested to write the various names on the cards provided for this purpose. The first five prizes were trips to Springfield and New Salem given to those who named the greatest number of scenes correctly. To "top off" the evening, four refugee girls presented folk dances and songs in colorful peasant costumes.

JR. SAFETY COUNCIL

The main purpose of this council, as its name implies, is to promote safety both in and outside of school. Driving examinations were given to teachers and students holding drivers' licenses, bicycles were tested, shop safety was taught and practiced, and safety during fire drills was discussed. Material on this subject was printed in the Weekly and distributed among the students.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

A very extensive program was carried on by the writers who made up this fine group. They sponsored the annual literary contest, revised the assembly script for the installation of class officers, and contributed to the new literary magazine, Trial Flights. A special study was made of juvenile fiction and juvenile non-fiction, kinds of greeting cards, poetry, essays, and other styles of writing. The members even tried their hand at composing some of the above mentioned. The Creative Writing Club took care of the publicity of the Morton Scholarship League.

During April, an exceedingly interesting speaker was their guest. Mrs. James Victorin, who ranks twenty-ninth nationally among all contestants, gave a talk on contest technique. Each student of the group entered some sort of contest, and Mrs. Victorin criticized their entries in the same manner as would the contest judges. Why buy a car when you can win one?

CREATIVE MUSIC CLUB

This club was open to anyone interested in any field of music. It had very interesting programs, indeed. Various operas were played on records and then discussed; some members would play a few selections on their instruments. But by far, the most appreciated and best liked were the trips taken to operas and concerts.

THIS GROUP CONSISTS OF TWO DELEGATES FROM EACH A. P. CLASS. THESE REPRESENTATIVES FORM A NUCLEUS FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVES AND REPORT ALL ACTIVITIES TO THE REST OF THE STUDENT BODY.

MORTON JUNIOR RED CROSS COUNCIL

Delegates from all advisee groups are members of Morton Junior Red Cross Council. This type of organization was set up by Morton Student Government Association in autumn, 1938. Many delegates not in the pictures have served this year. Junior Red Cross has a long record of good work in Morton.

Some members have visited sick pupils; some have collected magazines and have given them to hospital patients and other persons. Others have encouraged international correspondence by Morton pupils. Classes have exchanged portfolios with schools abroad. Some have studied accident prevention.

Roll Call for pupils was taken in the week of May 18, International Good Will Day, and the next week. Roll Call assemblies featured, along with work of the Council: Home Hygiene, taught in the high school and in the junior college by Mrs. Sparmacher, of the Red Cross, and Life Saving taught to Morton girls by Miss M. M. Russell, a Red Cross Life Saving instructor. Guest speaker was Chicago Chapter's Director of Junior Red Cross, Mr. Alfred G. Wardley.

Vincent Bicicchi and the sponsor, Mr. E. A. Dungan, were among the thirty-one delegates sent by the Chicago Chapter to the National Convention of the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

Thinking over the year's work done by the Junior-Senior Girls' Club, one is constantly reminded of Jane Adams because the girls in this organization have so unselfishly devoted their time to the welfare and happiness of others. Yet, they seem to glow with an inner sort of satisfaction due to all this. This is the group responsible for that successfully conducted Old Clothes campaign. You know—you brought the red woolen sweater Pop was trying to hand down to you. The drive did a double good turn that time, didn't it?

Then there came the day when each girl so very proudly brought "Mom" to the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The girls also did their share in packing baskets and serving at P. T. A. teas—besides holding teas of their own. Then, in the early part of April, a few girls were fortunate enough to be sent as representatives of the club to a conference held at Gary, Indiana. During the first semester the girls carried on the work in the Lost and Found until that club was reorganized.

This year a brilliant accomplishment was added to the club's many feats; a Suburban High School Girls' Conference was held at our own Morton High School.

This girls' club is most definitely a service club. Domesticity is certainly prevalent here; why, the girls even make baby clothes! With their Xmas baskets they bring a grateful comfort and happiness to the needy; with their scrapbooks and dolls they bring refreshing relief to the sick and suffering.

Ribbon Week is also one of the doings of these "femmes." The ribbons do give these poor "freshies" away, though some of the little fellows are practically hidden behind the mass of green at their necks. At the same time the little people who are seniors get their only opportunity to show that they have progressed mentally if not physically. The teachers, too, put on the festive bows and become members of each class on each of its "days."

These activities thus contribute not only to the well being of the members and those whom they serve through their welfare work, but also help to develop the color and spirit of our high school life.

TUMBLING CLUB

ONE high school group really demanding a high degree of skill in its line of activity is the Boys' Tumbling Club. Intense muscle coordination is the outstanding technique employed in their stunt work, and practically every muscle in the body is exercised in some way or another. The boys are coached under the very capable hands of O. J. Kudrnovsky who is a former tumbling champion himself.

The amazing performances at the Physical Education Exhibition are generally those they present. They flip forward and backward through the air ("with the greatest of ease", too), perform great feats on the parallel bars, and make your hair stand on end with other daring gymnastics.

Some of the former Mortonites of this club were in the "Gymkana", an exhibition presented by a group of University of Illinois tumblers who toured the states with their superb act.

GIRLS' TUMBLING CLUB

A rather new club among Morton's very many is the Girls' Tumbling Club. Now don't think you have to be an expert in the field in order to join the ranks. No! The only requirement is that you be anxious to learn. There are no class restrictions—anyone from her freshman to senior year is eligible for entrance.

This is one of the few clubs, and the only girls' tumbling club in the school's history, that ever had its own sweaters. They are maroon and white and the pride and joy of every girl who is successful enough to earn one. To get one, a tumbler had to have been in the club at least a year and approved by the club officers. Later on in the year, there was a clamping down on requirements and a more definite system was adopted. In this manner, only the very deserving received their rewards.

TRACK CLUB

Apart from the runners of the famous Morton track team is the Track Club. Its underlying purpose is to create an interest in the school for track by holding intramural meets.

SADDLE CLUB

"Heigh ho, Silver!"—here comes the Saddle Club. This group of eager equestrians have one of the most successful beginnings credited to any club in the high school. When the membership total passed the one-hundred mark, an enrollment restriction had to be established. The club went riding every Friday afternoon for one-hour jaunts. Then, too, there were several two-hour rides through the trails, breakfast rides, and weinie roasts. One Saturday the members went on an all-day ride from the Greentree Stables in River Grove to Wheeling, Illinois.

Emblems (maroon lettering and horses' heads on a white background) were awarded to the deserving members. To receive an emblem one had to earn a thousand points; the club system provided 50 points for every hour club ride and 25 points for attending meetings. After earning the required amount of points, the rider had to take two tests—one written and the other on horseback. It was only through constant riding and practice that these sought-after emblems were obtained.

The most unique of all school events of the year was their imaginary foxhunt. "Give me my boots and my saddle!"

FENCING CLUB

Another practically new group of the school is the girls' Fencing Club. The first few weeks of the year were spent in learning the various techniques of the sport, and from then on the fencers worked on further developing their abilities. The girls wore masks; but for safety's sake the tips of the foils were bound up with tape—some of the girls would get over enthusiastic.

The club went to see a professional fencing bout and were astounded by the grace and swiftness of one little Frenchman.

STRIKES AND SPARES

A popular new group is the Strikes and Spares, a bowling club. For the fun of competition, weekly prizes were given to the highest scorers; and medals were awarded for the highest averages and the winning teams. They certainly could "bowl them over," for example, twice they bowled the college and won!

Some of these bowlers made up the Morton Straight Railers, the Chicago High School Bowling League championship quintet. It was Frank Mucha, the leader of the Strikes and Spares Club, who piloted them to victory. The winners, runner-ups, and third place teams were awarded medals at a grand banquet held at the Stevens Hotel on May 5.

BIOLOGY CLUB

In order to further the study of plant and animal life, this club was organized in connection with regular biology class work. Ever so often, at designated times, a day would be given over to club meetings. Reports of educational and entertaining value were presented by students and the instructor. Then, movies helped explain many of the widely discussed topics. Cross-sections of stems were examined, animals were bisected, plants were cultivated, and various body organs were preserved.

An exhibit which proved to be quite an eye-catcher was kept in the fourth-floor display case. The stages of a chick's life from the embryonic stage to hatching time were prepared in jars. And that cross-section of an eye—didn't know you had it in you!

The members even went so far as to publish a newspaper of their own called the "Biology News" (and a fine little paper it was, too—quite a competitor for the Chicago Tribune 'twas said). Of course, the trips to various points of interest mustn't be forgotten.

This year an elm tree was planted at the corner of Austin and 25th Street by Mr. MacLean, the seventh hour biology classes, and the Biology Club.

CHAITY CLUB

The odd name of this club is a combination of the words "character" and "personality"—the group's purpose being to study and develop both of these. Everyone has some personality, but it isn't always developed to its utmost or even best extent. You've all tried walking with books on your heads, haven't you? (Bet it didn't stay on long. See, you should have joined this club too.) Well, the members even go farther than that. Habits, manners, speech, clothing, and posture all enter into the field. Remember, "it's the little things that count." Very valuable were the discussions led by the club members and the guest speakers.

SARMATIA JUNIORS

This Polish club had its share of interesting meetings, too. The members discussed articles on the war-torn Poland, read Polish poetry, and gave back reports on books written in the language of the Slavic country. On Christmas and Easter the various quaint customs were reenacted, providing much entertainment for those participating. Then there were parties, trips, and a roller-skating party which even the "Prof" got into the roll of when he tested out his balancing ability.

This group is open to all—male and female, fisherman and hunter. It's a little more than just a place to "speel" off those fish stories. Movies were shown at almost every meeting. Then there were practice sessions for beginning fishermen followed by a casting tournament to try out the members' abilities. These sportsmen are trying to get a clubroom where they can keep their collections.

MODERN TRAVELERS

It is interesting to know that the Modern Travelers' Club is the first traveling club Morton ever had in its entire history. The club's purpose is to visit manufacturing industries, radio studios, and business companies in the local vicinity.

The Travelers may be recognized by a gold pin with the words "Travel Club" in a "V" formation and a large sailboat in the center.

Some of the companies visited by this group were the Coca Cola, Zenith Radio, Mars Candy, Gordon Baking, and Curtis Candy companies. Some of the more entertaining trips were taken to the Civic Opera, to WBBM where they heard Wayne King and the "First Nighter", and to the Melody Mill for a most rollicking roller-skating party.

WEATHER CLUB

Although this club had a small membership, it had a large program. Meetings and programs were prepared by the students. An important subject discussed at one of these was the important part weather forecasting played in the last war. The group also entered the contest sponsored by the Junior Academy of Science on May 3 and 4. One of their most useful projects was the temperature chart kept on the fourth floor for public use.

SOCIAL STUDIES SOCIETY

Among the clubs having exceedingly busy programs was the Social Studies Society. If it wasn't a trip to Washington, it was a trip to Springfield; if it wasn't a trip to Springfield, it was a trip to the museum. They practically needed a 30-hour day to carry out their numerous intentions. A program was planned for every meeting, so there was always a "hot time." Guest speakers, often from the faculty, added that necessary variety. The members engaged in debates and panel discussions, generally on questions of governmental concern. Any member will tell you that the club program was a happy combination of the educational and recreational.

The fellows who breeze in and out of your A. P. class with sales talks, or grab money from your pockets and hand you a ticket, or cram you into the assemblies are none other than "Pop" Green's town criers.

This group, as can easily be surmised, takes care of the lost articles and tries to find their rightful owners. During the first semester, the Junior-Senior Girls' Club had carried on the work.

BOOSTER CLUB

The lusty voices in the cheering section generally belong to these enthusiasts. Whether victory or defeat is in sight, they're always there pluggin' away for their "dear old Alma Mater." They carried on a candy sale during the basketball games, and with the profits they set up a feast for both teams. A banquet for the athletes of the school brought their active year to an end.

CRAFTS CLUB

This small but active club has made many lovely articles including leather belts, purses, and bracelets. A very pleasing Italian Exhibit held at the Art Institute was attended during the winter.

MORTON CRAFTSMEN

These industrious shop boys took many trips, two of which were to the Hotpoint and International Harvester companies. The state meeting of the organization was held at one of the local chapters where the boys turned out for a gala weekend.

WE had one of the best first teams in the league, but we lost more than one game due to the lack of reserves. I'm inclined to be a bit optimistic about next year's team because I believe that we'll have one of the finest teams Morton has ever seen. While we've improved somewhat from last year's squad, other teams have weakened considerably." Thus stated Joe Ondrus, newly-appointed varsity football coach.

In the opening practice tilt of the year, a bad pass from center gave Harrison Tech of Chicago a 2-0 count over the Ondrusmen. The Maroons outplayed the Techmen throughout the encounter, but this one bad break took the decision away from them. The following Saturday the locals traveled to LaGrange where they smashed the Blue-and-Gold eleven 14-6 in another non-conference battle.

Feeling assured of another victory, they then took on the Highland Park gridgers and were handed a 19-0 setback. Playing under "Mazdas" in Maywood, the varsity eleven dropped a hard-fought game to the Proviso Pirates, 7-6. However, the Mustangs showed a decided improvement over the Highland Park encounter. A blocked kick for the extra point proved to be the deciding factor which spelled defeat for the locals. At New Trier, the Mustangs, playing stellar defensive ball for three quarters faltered momentarily in the final quarter; the Green Wave pigskinners taking advantage of this lapse, pushed over a touchdown in the final quarter to win 6-0. After holding Oak Park scoreless during the first period while marching to a touchdown themselves, the Maroons succumbed to the Huskies' aerial barrage which rolled over the local gridgers to the tune of 34-7. Next the Mustangs, plagued by "Wild Bill" Wheeler, were downed by the Evanston's Wildcats, 18-0.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

HAVING almost as drastic a season as the varsity squad, the Junior Varsity gridders came through with one win, five defeats, and one tie. The top accomplishment of the season was the 6-0 win over LaGrange. The boys went in there hard after the holding of Harrison to a scoreless tie and really deserved to win. Then came their downfall which began when they were trampled to the tune of 27-0 and 24-0 at the hands of Oak Park. Then New Trier lightweights played havoc with the Jay Vee's defense to the score of 26-0. Playing a top-rate brand of ball for fifty minutes the footballers weakened in the final minutes of play to lose to Proviso 6-0. Their last game of the season was a loss at the hands of Evanston.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

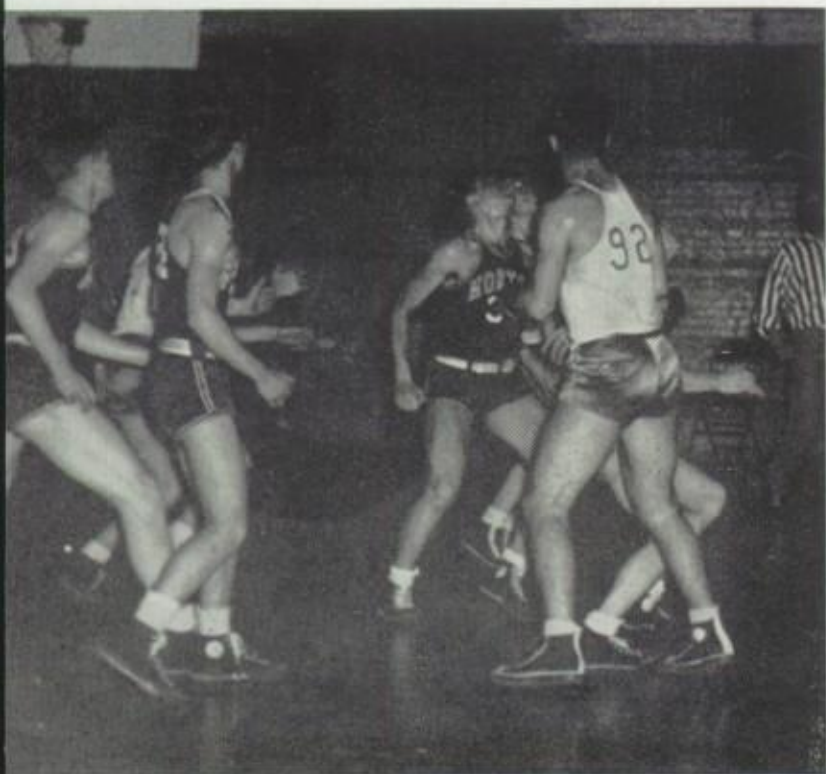

MORTON'S varsity cagers, now undisputed Suburban League Champions by toppling such mighty opponents as Proviso and Evanston, again maintained a prestige well established by previous Morton champions. Other than their overtime defeat at the hands of an inspired New Trier team, Morton's Suburban League slate was clear. The boys of the hardwood floor then went on to gain possession of the regional tournament plaque. The Maroon varsity quintet's hopes of adding more laurels to its record by winning the sectional title were shattered by a four point loss at the hands of a strong Dundee team.

SUBURBAN LEAGUE CHAMPS

As a rule all of the varsity games played were characterized by fast playing, smooth ball handling, and a strong finish. The snappy Morton cagers were paced by rangy "Ace" Parker, who won recognition throughout the state as the best prep basketeer to pound the hardwood in the position of forward. Joe Hapac, long shot artist of the team, was a vital defensive asset as well as one who could add to the score from long distances. "Willie" Albaugh, the season's second highest scorer, played a consistently top rate brand of ball. "Rowdy" Dowd provided the team with the slow and sleepy contrast type of ball that fooled the opponent and allowed him to score unexpectedly. Al Michi, Ray Sliwa, Bob Boehme, and Tom Soldat provided the rest of the varsity backbone. To be back to lead another group of champions next year will be Ches Strumillo, Joe Demkovitch, Ed Kosner, and Arny Laver.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Morton's junior-varsity basketballers ended their cage season by slaughtering a powerful Waukegan five, 41-28, and thereby added another decisive win to a string of five victories. The locals dropped their first encounter for their only loss.

The primary purpose of the jay-vee squad is to teach the fundamentals of basketball and to develop players into stars that will form the nucleus of next year's championship Maroon varsity five. They are under the able tutorship of Coach Ondrus, who also serves as varsity grid mentor.

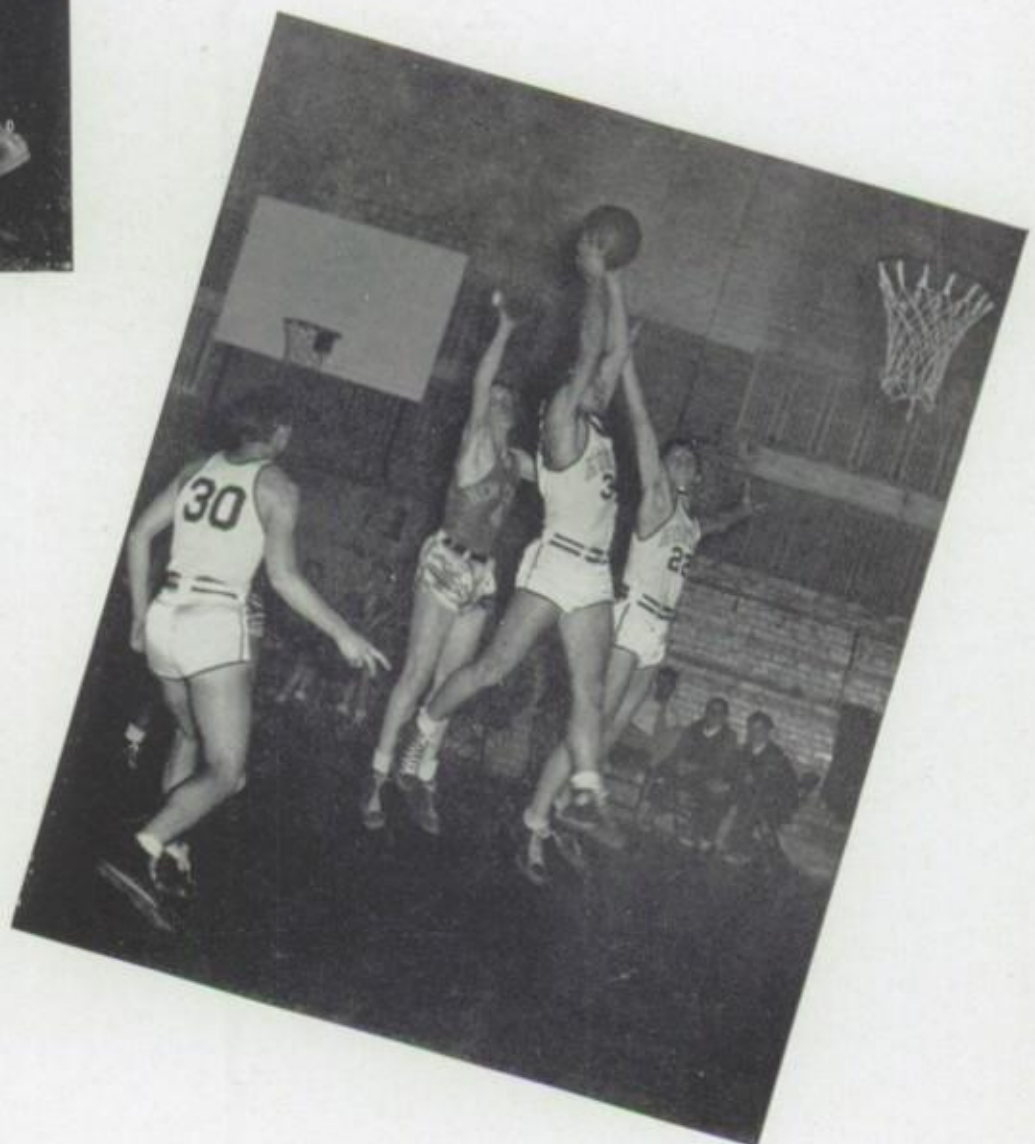

Those who will probably see action next season are: Butterfield, Regan, Hoffman, Soucek, Palese, Darda, Grove, and Krause. It is up to these men to carry on the tradition of championship in the realm of basketball for Morton.

THE spring season of 1939 brought about a successful campaign for the baseballers, under Coach Fencil's guidance. They won 18 of 19 games, copped the Suburban League bunting, and walloped Champaign in a game for the mythical state title. A great pitching staff and some powerful hitters were the chief assets of the Maroon nine, as they massacred all their opposition. Polivka, Goralski, and Holec pitched nine shut outs and had an earned run average of one per game. Dick Ronovsky, Joe Hapac, Arch Albaugh, and Polivka were the top sluggers.

Highlight of the season was Goralski's no-hit performance against Thornton as the boys came through and beat them 20-0. The Maroons pounded out twenty three hits including a home run apiece for Ronovsky and Bill Albaugh. Ken Polivka held the toughest of Suburban League crown contenders, to two hits as the baseballers whitewashed Proviso 7-0. Polivka again came through to hold the Oak Parkers to one hit as Hapac and Ronovsky collected a homer apiece to beat them 9-0. Ken, a few days later, showed Oak Park that his first one hit performance was no accident by fanning 17 men on a 5-0 victory. The powerful Maroon nine then massacred the undefeated Champaign nine 15-0.

1940 BASEBALL

THE 1940 edition of the Maroon baseball nine looks likely to repeat its performance of last year and take the Suburban League title again. This year the boys do not have the hitting power that they had last year, but their moundsmen will more than make up for this loss.

Ed Goralski is the head of the Mustangs pitching staff and has shown that he has this season by pitching his first full game against Oak Park and allowing only one hit. Erwin Shieve is the able southpaw who held the Collegians hitless in six innings on the mound. To aid these two masters, the team boasts Gene Waszak, last years frosh-soph ace, and Jim Holec the hard-hitting pitcher. At first base the team again sports veteran "Ace" Parker. Second base is a toss up between two equally good men, George Livanec and Paul Pavlinek. Arny Laver will probably wind up at short stop after a fight for the position with Mike Randazzo. In the outfield there is Bill Rankin, veteran fielding star. Jim Regan holds down the center field position and is a long ball hitter. In right field will appear Jim Holec, pitching ace who suffered an arm injury and will be in the field until his arm limbers up. Ed Zamacnek is the present Maroon receiver with Wally Altman fighting for the job.

As evidence of the Maroons' power this year, we have the one-hit victory over Oak Park, and the victory over Highland Park under the pitching of "Lefty" Shieve. The boys do have the material and all they need now is the punch to pull them through.

SOCCER

FOR the first time in six years the Morton soccer team was not successful in winning the Cook County Championship. They lost the crown to Oak Park by a mere two points in three games. Probably as good as any team that Morton ever produced.

THIS year's team was beaten by ill events. The first game lost by Morton was to Lane Tech. The second defeat came at the hands of Oak Park by a score of three to two, and they outplayed the Oak Park team all the way through. The team ended with a record of six wins, four losses, and three ties for a percentage of .577. The locals scored a total of 32 goals, their opponents only 15. Captain Ray Biccichi scored a high of 14 goals for the local booters. His brother Vince was second with 11 goals.

A member of the Frosh-Soph squad, which set astounding records for underclassmen, splashes through Morton pool.

Tom Pletcher and Carl Goding push off to a flying start in a home meet against Crane.

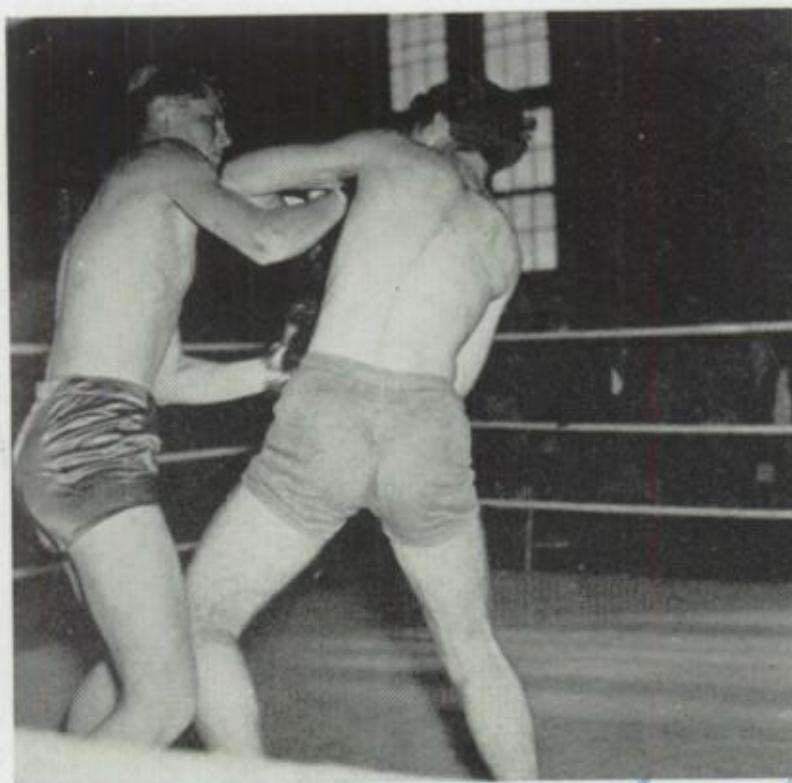

THIS season saw many outstanding performers come forth and as a result Morton's frosh-soph team managed to have a very favorable record while the unbalanced varsity, although studded with such consistent performers as Milt Tauchen, Carl Goding, Tom Pletcher, Jim Luza, and Lawrence Johnson, came through the season as well as could be expected. As in all sports the boys felt that pre-game nervousness on their journeys to various schools in the league but calmed down to grim determination at the start of the contest. It's pretty hard to write about the feelings of each swimmer but you can bet they all had one of the finest seasons in experience, hopes, and realities as any athlete in any sport at Morton. The frosh-soph led by Capt. Bob Kay, who placed fifth in the suburban league backstroke event, had more wins than losses and those losses were usually by only a few points. Outstanding men on the team were Dan Svoboda, Bob Lehr, and Maynard Mitchell who, along with

Kay, comprised the relay team that took third place in the league. Dan Svoboda was nosed out by a fraction of a second and took second place out of a field of seven schools. Louis Privoznik dived for the yearlings while Lawrence Johnson led the varsity in the same event. Capt. Jim Luza out-splashed the upperclass team in the breast-stroke with George Dvorak and George Privoznik having a nip and tuck battle on the frosh-soph front. Fred Kerber moved up to the varsity in February and added his strength to Carl Goding and Tom Pletcher in the free style event. Milt Tauchen and Arthur Brodsky led in the backstroke on the varsity and frosh-soph teams respectively. F. J. Warga, coaching the team for his fourth year, predicts a strong team next season and has planned an annual intramural swimming meet in order to spot promising material. The facilities for swimming, as everyone knows, are not extensive and this is one reason why our swimmers deserve credit for their fine spirit and showings.

Now let's talk this over peacefully!

BOXING TEAM

FOR the third consecutive time Morton's boxing team reigns supreme over the high schools of northern Illinois. By virtue of their victories in five of the eight weight divisions, the local pugilists placed first in the third annual Northern Illinois High School Boxing Tournament. The five Morton champions are McBurney, 105 pounds; Sinciro, 115 pounds; Grimm, 135 pounds; Hardy, 125 pounds; and Buschbach, 145 pounds. This is the second state title for Buschbach while Hardy has been state champ two times previously. Other schools participating in the tournament were Hinsdale, Grant, Blue Island, and Dundee. They finished in that order.

One of the important factors contributing to the success of the Maroon leather-pushers is the method used by Coach Jahelka in unearthing the hidden talent with which Morton abounds. Each year some time in December a school-wide intramural boxing tournament is staged. The results of the 1939 bouts were the crowning of eleven new champions as follows: Fred Grimm, paperweight;

The Morton boxing squad is fortunate in having so dexterous a coach as Mr. Jahelka. To him belongs much credit for a fine team.

TRACK AND CROSS COUNTRY

Rehberg goes into a sprint to take first place at Evanston meet.

Start of Cross-country event at Evanston gets underway.

Near the finish line and ace Bob Rehberg with teammates coming up.

THE cross-country team of the season has proved itself to be made of the same winning caliber so characteristic of many of Morton's teams. This year's harriers lost only one meet of the five in which they entered. The greatest accomplishment of the season was the winning of the Suburban League title.

The most consistant of our runners was Bob "Streaky" Rehberg, who has won all the races that he has entered. Jim Smith; Len Voight, captain of this year's team, Bill Wiggins; and Bill Mraz were also valuable assets to the team.

At Proviso, Smith and Rehberg shared honors with a tie for first. In the next meet Bill Wiggins ran a good race to make it a trio at the tape, including Rehberg and Smith.

At Evanston the Cross-country squad, led by Rehberg, ran between the halves of the football game and beat the Evanston team.

ALTHOUGH our cinder-men have not copped the Suburban League Track Championship, they are rejoicing about the fact that they, the most poorly equipped team in the Suburban League as far as track is concerned, have overcome some of the more elaborately equipped schools.

In last years state meet, Morton placed third. Roy Brown starred by establishing a new National Interscholastic Record. Morton took fifth in the Suburban meet. Len Voight won the 440 yard dash and Rehberg the mile.

The relay team took second and Nemecek placed fourth in the shot put.

The Morton track team placed fifth in the Oak Park Relays; the largest high school track meet of its type in the country. Morton's eight-lap relay team beat out 23 other schools to win the event.

Morton's trackless team deserves a lot of credit for its outstanding performances.

TENNIS

THE Morton netmen enjoyed a busy and prosperous year. The autumn season was climaxed with a championship tournament in three of the school classes. In the senior division Tony Capalbo captured the first place honors, and L. Rogas and C. Ondra received second and third place laurels. Henry Kolar was crowned junior champ, and George Petras won the highest rating in the sophomore division.

Only one blemish marred the record of the Morton tennis team; the untimely death of well loved Coach W. Y. McBurney was a great loss to the Morton racquet-men. Mr. McBurney had been the founder of the Morton tennis team and was an intimate friend of all its members. This spring Mr. L. H. Batson assumed leadership of this group, and the team shows promise of maintaining its proficiency under his capable guidance.

Harold Christian, doubles star, returns one with little effort.

WRESTLING

MORTON may justly be proud of this year's wrestling team. Coached by Mr. Kovanic, the Morton boys have developed one of the strongest teams the school has ever had, even though only one of nine inter-scholastic contests was won by the local boys. As proof of their prowess, the squad was offered the distinction of sending two of their bruisers, H. Loeffler, heavy-weight, and G. Popelka, 145 pounds, to the district contest at Proviso. Each returned with a second place rating. In reward for this distinctive performance, Morton was designated to send a representative to the Illinois State Championship tournament.

Maroon parallell barmen put on a fine exhibit of strength and gracefulness for the movie camera.

GYM TEAM

THE gymnastic boys who perform giant swings on the horizontal bars and gracefully swing through many difficult tricks on the parallel bars are coached by Mr. O. J. Kudernovsky, who is a former national champion on the parallel bars. At each practice the boys improve their form and master new acts that require great control and skill and when they occasionally display their tactics at exhibitions, everyone expresses admiration at the marvelous co-ordination and beautiful form with which the boys perform. Because gymnastics require great muscular control and effort, many of the gymnasts first gained their training in tumbling and then began the more skillful work required of gymnastics, although this is not required and in many instances is not the case. Like tumbling there is no interscholastic competition in this sport. Coach Kudernovsky rates all of his boys highly and is just as proud of the excellent exhibitions put on by them as many a Mortonite who has witnessed them in action.

TUMBLING

TAUGHT and coached by an expert gymnast, Mr. O. J. Kudernovsky, Morton's tumblers have gained the admiration of all the students in the school as well as many others who have witnessed their difficult art. The boys do not have interscholastic contests, but their agile sport has been displayed at many exhibitions and they have gained an exalted reputation at the state A.A.U. meets where many of the best performers in the junior division meet for competition. Members of the team gave thrilling exhibitions between halves at many home basketball games. Meeting every day at the sixth hour, the tumblers work through preliminary exercises to loosen up and then begin their complicated maneuvers under the guidance of their coach. The outstanding thing about this sport is that one can start by only knowing how to do a simple forward roll and by the end of the year, with hard conscientious work, develop into an accomplished performer.

This sort of thing just isn't done on a concrete mat, but cameras don't lie.

They started the season by taking it on the chin from Highland Park to the tune of 26-6. Becoming more settled they lost only 7-0 to Proviso. Playing a scrappy New Trier bunch, the Wrightmen were on the short end of a 13-0 score. Oak Park took them into camp 12-0. Then came the hectic game with Evanston in which the lead changed many times but ended up in an 18-18 tie. The Frosh-Soph tasted victory in their last game of the season over the Waukegan Indians 7-0.

The boys who carried the force of attack during the year were, Vydra, Miskelly, Mollison, Darda, and McCarry.

BEGINNING spot for aspirant varsity footballers is the freshman football squad. The team is not organized on an interscholastic basis, but is important from the standpoint of what the future holds for football in Morton. The freshmen gridders are chosen through intramural football games and practices. They are the cream of the freshman group of footballers. The purpose of the team is to give the first year players the experience which is needed to fit them into the regular frosh-soph line-up in the following year. They are taught the fundamentals of football so that they can go right into the playing during their sophomore year. It can be said that the squad has been a training place for many of the Frosh-Sophs and last year it gave to the squad such men as Captain Zentz, Demkovich, Letzow, Ernt, Canik, and Camden.

FROSH = SOPH BASKETBALL

At this point it's anybody's ball.

STARTING off the season with a practice game against Riverside, Coach Fencl's yearling team smoothed over many a rough play and worked themselves into a well coordinated and fast clicking team. Ploegman and Frank Cuda were the high point men of the game and the season saw Charles Cuda, Kenny Gutschick, Peterson, Smith, and Tourek come forward and present the team that gave many a thrilling game to our thousands of loyal basketball fans. The game that remains one of the most thrilling in the annals of frosh-soph play at Morton was played against Evanston when C. Cuda plunked in a long shot that nosed out the Wildkits by one point with only a few seconds left to play. Always putting up a hard sportsmanlike battle during every minute of play, the yearlings ended up in fourth position among the schools in the suburban league which is considered one of the strongest leagues in the state.

COACH Wright led his yearlings to another Suburban League crown in the thirty-nine season. The frosh-soph baseballers walloped Waukegan in their final game 5-1 to bring their total to seventeen wins in a row. The underclass diamondmen have remained undefeated since they were organized two years ago. Big Gene Waszak hurled a no hit game as the baseballers set down the Proviso underclassmen 12-0. Holec held the Winnetka green and white to two hits as the youngsters handed them a 7-0 shut out. "Puggy" Demkovich was the big man with the bat as he came through in the Proviso game with a long three-bagger and two singles. Close behind Demkovich in batting were Palmer, Waszak, Laver, and Altman. Joe Vydra, tall freshman, proved to be a baseball pitching asset as he struck out ten Oak Parkers and only allowed four hits to beat them 10-4.

VARSITY "M" CLUB

ONE of the greatest honors after being awarded your "M" at Morton is being accepted into the "M" Club. The "M" club is an honorary society for fellows who have won the distinction in some sport. The ideal letter man is not only proficient in sports but excels in his studies also. As it is with every true athlete, clean sportsmanship is foremost in the minds of our lettermen.

One of the most important of the club's activities is sponsoring the annual Varsity "M" Club Hop. This year saw the beginning of a new tradition at the Hop; a Varsity Queen was chosen by the "M" Hop-goers. This year as in the past the "M" Club members made their annual pilgrimage to Champaign.

ALWAYS on hand, ready to give our team a lift when trouble comes, always there to praise the boys after some spectacular achievement, the Morton cheerleaders have instilled in the mind of the student body the urge to show our athletes that we are always behind them. Every game saw our cheerleaders out on the gridiron or the basketball floor leading an enthusiastic student body in giving their players the inspiration and encouragement needed to win ball games. You must have noticed the cheerleaders determination to impress the student body into respecting clean sportsmanship by scolding them when an uproar arose in opposition to a referee's decision. Let's give them a lot of credit for the part they do in winning games.

SENIOR GIRLS' SPORTS

Watch the ball, kido!
Our senior girls jump.

THE boys were not the only ones who participated in athletic events at Morton—the girls also had a varied gym program and were not far behind the boys. It seemed that the senior girls topped the list as far as activities went. They had a selection of dancing—tap, creative, social, or square dancing with the boys; bowling; tennis; volleyball; basketball; soccer; swimming; and golf. At the beginning of each semester the seniors made their selections of the various activities they wished to pursue during the coming year. Every girl had to have at least five hours of gym a week including hygiene. The most popular sport appeared to be bowling and some very high averages were the result. If the girls were exceptionally interested in physical education, they could take leadership for their gym credits.

JUNIOR GIRLS' SPORTS

WHILE the juniors did not have as many activities to choose from, they managed to have a lot of fun during their gym hours. At the start of the school year the popular sport was kickball. This year several classes played soccer instead. Volleyball started the moment it was too cold to go outside. An intramural volleyball tournament was held for juniors and seniors who wished to play it outside of their own gym class. The seniors were victorious. Although volleyball was liked by all, the moment the weather was warm the girls started to eye the athletic field and think of baseball. Besides swimming and life saving, the girls could take creative and social dancing. Interesting discussions were held in the hygiene classes on subjects of interest to high school students.

- Newly organized girls' inter-swimming team start a relay race.
- Members of the Creative Dancing class go thru a practice routine in the girls' gym.

- Volleyball is a popular sport with Morton girls.
- Artificial respiration is one of the essential practices of the Life Saving Class.
- Jitterbugs carry their fun into gym.
- Creative dancers on a high fling are nimble and quick
- Muscle control isn't limited to boys' gymnastics.

SOPHOMORES

THE Sophomores really went in for their gym in a big way. To start the year off, it was they who won the girls' kickball championship for the second year in a row. As old man Winter sent his icy breath across our athletic field, the girls hurried inside to learn the art of captain ball—a mild form of basketball. At the start of the new semester, our athletes teed off with volleyball. An intramural volleyball tournament was also held for the frosh-soph girls. In the spring the girls began working on their gym exhibit numbers. When that was all over, baseball started in real earnest.

FRESHMEN

ALTHOUGH our young neophytes had to be taught the various sports, they caught on very quickly. Even though they were greener than their older classmates, they became just as excited in a good game of kickball as anyone. Our freshies followed the same gym schedule as the sophs with emphasis put on the rules of the game. A big thrill every week were the social dancing classes with the boys. In the pool our frosh were taught how to swim and dive. During hygiene classes they viewed pictures on health and kept notebooks of what they saw.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

THE Girls' Athletic Association, probably the largest club in the school, numbers over two hundred members. The girls have the opportunity to earn four awards during their high school years. To get them they have to keep training rules and earn points in their gym classes. This year the G. A. A. was very active. One of their first social affairs was the Morton play day. Over 100 girls came to the Jitterbug Jamboree as it was called. After spending the morning playing games, they all trouped

CREATIVE DANCE CLUB

THE Creative Dance Club is all that its name implies. The girls have a real chance to cooperate in the forming of new steps and dances. They are divided into two groups—the beginners and the advanced. Creative dancing provides an outlet for physical, creative, and mental development, gives practice in rhythmic expression, and provides for actual practice in the formation of the dance itself. By revealing the dance in its true form, it opens new fields that are relative to music, art, and design. Our advanced dancers practice two periods a day, while the neophytes labor for only one period. This year they held the first creative dance conference ever held at Morton. Girls from various schools attended and several known dancers were also present to show them various movements.

LIFE GUARDS

SPLASH . . . Morton's mermaids can frolic in our boundless natatorium and enjoy their swimming in perfect safety since they are under the constant supervision of our capable life guards. They are all able swimmers, and have passed either the junior or senior Red Cross Life Saving tests. Many of the girls pass their test in their freshmen year and repeat it for practical experience during their sophomore year. The guards are assigned to each swimming period. Besides watching the pool, they instruct the girls in swimming. Beginning with this semester, the Red Cross life saving requirements will be more stringent than before. Many of the guards like their work so well that they spend many of their extra periods in the pool assisting the guards on duty.

GIRLS' "M" CLUB

THE Girls' "M" Club is composed of girls who have earned their 1000 points in various intramural activities. Before entering the club, the candidates had to pass a two-week probation test—to see if they could take it and like it. Proposing to the orchestra, wearing a stuffed sock on their heads, talking only to teachers and "M" girls (what a hardship), were only some of the many things they did. Once in the club, the girls devote their time to promote service in the school. Filling Christmas baskets and helping the welfare committee during the April Fools' Dance were some of their many duties. This year the girls received their M's during an impressive ceremony at the April P. T. A.

This year's officers were:

LEADERSHIP

THE physical education teachers of tomorrow can be found right in this group because it is the girls who are really interested in gym that take up leadership; and it is hoped that this early training will benefit them. Although their duties are many and varied, they manage to enjoy themselves in their work. In the capacity of assistant teachers the girls help organize the classes, bring out equipment, referee games, assist the life guards in the pool, and act as all around help. This year the "M" club girls volunteered their services as leaders. They met with Miss Sherwood every Monday A. P. to discuss problems and to hear talks on leadership. The qualifications of a good leader are initiative, self control, ability to assume responsibility, neatness, leadership, poise, and a pleasing personality.

SENIOR CLASS 1940

EVERY senior in the class of '40 may well be proud of the record he helped to make in his four years at Morton. Why? It would be hard to enumerate all their achievements in such a small space; but picking out some of the highlights, one finds they were the first to have a mid-year graduation exercise for their February graduates, first to inaugurate the new cabinet system of class officers, and first to establish a real "Hard Times Day" at school. In athletics the class of '40 featured stars in almost every field of sport. Not to be outdone in other activities, the senior class found real talent in oratory and debate, drama, and music. Yes, one must agree that these seniors have something of which to be proud.

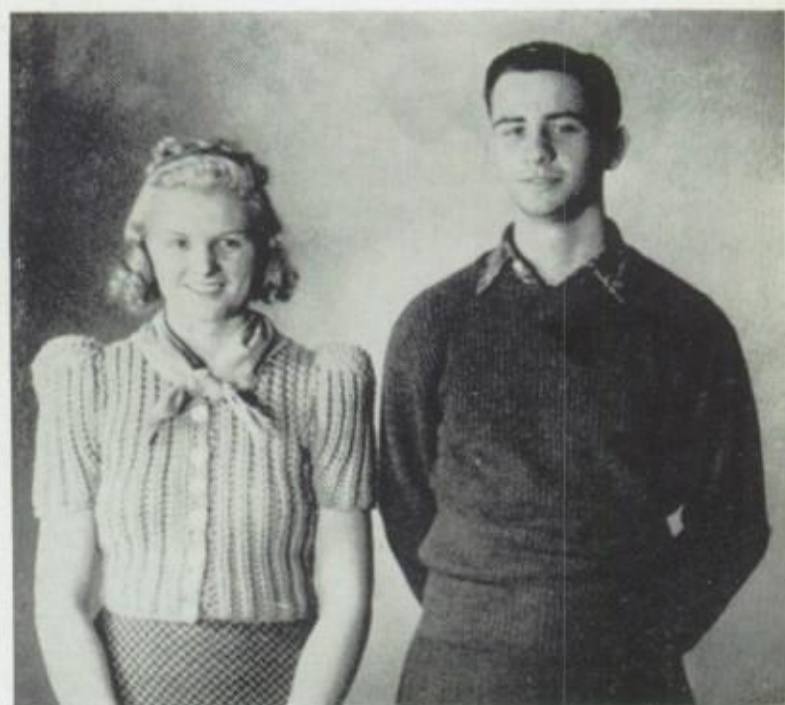

Dear Dorothy,
 We're hoping you have a very happy
 year as a
 you did as a freshman.

JUNIOR CLASS

For a class so versatile as the class of '41 it is rather hard to enumerate its many achievements in such a small space.

The new cabinet system benefitted the juniors greatly this year in making the 1940 "Gone With the Wind Prom" a success. A great deal of credit for its success should go, however, to the cabinet and faculty advisors.

As Chairman, Arnold Laver was ably assisted by Julina Gylfe, vice chairman first semester, and Bob Johnson, vice chairman second semester. Charlotte Mioranna kept an accurate account of the year's activities, while Bob Brown was official treasurer. Also giving valuable help on the cabinet were Jim Smith, Pat Morrison, Lillian Peters, Elaine Dvorak, plus Arnold Moran and Shirley Schroeder second semester.
